

Hubble's Law

galaxies are retreating from us at a speed that is proportional to their distance

i.e- greater distance=faster speed

Hubble's Law

Greater red shifts indicate faster speeds.

Since, distant galaxies have greater red shifts, they must be retreating at a greater speed.